

A SPECIAL EVENT AT FELLOWSHIP HOUSE

PRIDE & PREJUDICE

in Words and Music

Sunday 13th October • 7.30pm

Jane Austen's most popular novel comes to life in this atmospheric performance which has already enjoyed success this summer in London and Cambridge.

Violin Leora Cohen • Piano Paul Wingfield
Narrator Sophie Max • Special score by Carl Davis
Script by Gill Hornby

Leora Cohen, alumna of Channing School, Cambridge University and The Royal College of Music enjoys a diverse professional career as a recitalist, soloist and ensemble musician in major venues around the world including concert series such as the BBC Proms.

Paul Wingfield studied oboe, piano and composition at Chetham's School of Music before an active performing career. This led on to an academic career at Trinity College Cambridge where he is Director of Studies in Music and Secretary of the Council.

Sophie Max is an actor and writer who trained at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and at the Royal Central School of Speech and Drama. She has already written widely for film, TV and the stage, a career which is rapidly developing.

Carl Davis the American composer and conductor who died last year is perhaps most widely renowned for his dozens of compositions for film and TV. Many will remember his evocative score for the BBC 1995 Series Pride & Prejudice. He was commissioned to produce the abbreviated version for violin and piano which will feature here.

Gill Hornby the bestselling novelist and Jane Austen authority wrote the narrator's script.
